1. Watchmen
This copy of Alan Moore and Dave Gibbons' 'Watchmen' is an original, and I somehow managed to find in a charity shop a few years back. It's in excellent condition. It also sparked a sudden and somewhat big interest in graphic novels and comics for me. It's better than the film, and I loved it while it lasted. What remained of the old phone's screen off.

2. Magic 8 Ball
I remember seeing this in some shop when I was young, and immediately wanted one. However, the magic of it didn't last when I discovered that it was basically just a dice in a pot. I was a bit of a disappointment.

3. Screenless iPhone 5s
A good phone, while it lasted. Probably the best I've ever had. As soon as my new phone arrived, I took what remained of the old phone's screen off. Not sure why.

4. BLOC Sunglasses
I bought a pair of BLOC sunglasses. We used to use them a lot. I think it's a cool little thing to have on a desk.

5. Battery
I bought a battery for my old phone. It did not occur to me that they may have changed the type of battery. I'm not sure why.

6. Binatone Walkie-Talkie
Another from my childhood. I can't find the other one. We used to use them a lot. I think it's a cool little thing to have on a desk.

7. Chrome Heart Ring
I bought a Chrome Heart ring. It's a cool little thing to have on a desk. I think it's a cool little thing to have on a desk.

8. Permanent Marker
I've got loads of these. Nothing special about them. I think it's a cool little thing to have on a desk.

9. Top tier chewing gum
I bought a pack of chewing gum. It's a cool little thing to have on a desk. I think it's a cool little thing to have on a desk.

10. Empty Sealix
I bought a pack of Sealix. It's a cool little thing to have on a desk. I think it's a cool little thing to have on a desk.

11. Zippo Lighter
I bought a Zippo lighter. It's a cool little thing to have on a desk. I think it's a cool little thing to have on a desk.

12. Lonsdale Lighter
I bought a Lonsdale lighter. It's a cool little thing to have on a desk. I think it's a cool little thing to have on a desk.

13. Yu-Gi-Oh! Card
I bought a Yu-Gi-Oh! card. It's a cool little thing to have on a desk. I think it's a cool little thing to have on a desk.

14. Bulldog Clip
I bought a bulldog clip. It's a cool little thing to have on a desk. I think it's a cool little thing to have on a desk.

15. Baseball
I bought a baseball. It's a cool little thing to have on a desk. I think it's a cool little thing to have on a desk.

16. Poker Chip
I bought a poker chip. It's a cool little thing to have on a desk. I think it's a cool little thing to have on a desk.

17. Apex Twin CD
I bought a CD. It's a cool little thing to have on a desk. I think it's a cool little thing to have on a desk.

18. Salomon
I bought a Salomon. It's a cool little thing to have on a desk. I think it's a cool little thing to have on a desk.

19. Utterly Butter
I bought a Butter. It's a cool little thing to have on a desk. I think it's a cool little thing to have on a desk.

20. Zimbabw 100 Trillion Dollar Note
I bought a Zimbabw 100 Trillion Dollar Note. It's a cool little thing to have on a desk. I think it's a cool little thing to have on a desk.

1.....Watchmen

This copy of Alan Moore and Dave Gibbons' 'Watchmen' is an original release which I somehow managed to find in a charity shop a few years back. It's in excellent condition. It also sparked a sudden and somewhat brief interest in graphic novels and comics for me. It's better than the film too.

2.....Magic 8 Ball

I remember seeing this in some show or film when I was young, and immediately wanted one. However, the magic did run out a bit when I discovered that it was basically just a dice in a pot.

3.....Screenless iPhone 5s

A good phone, while it lasted. Dropped 10 too many times. As soon as my new phone arrived at the door, I took what remained of the old phone's screen off. Not sure why.

4.....BLOC Sunglasses

I bought these on eBay, IRONICALLY of course. However, it did not occur to me that they may not fit my larger-than-average head, therefore it isn't likely you'll see me in them any time soon.

5.....Scott Super Glue

Empty. Still in my room purely out of laziness.

6.....Binatone Walkie-Talkie

Another item from my childhood. Can't find the other one. We used to tune into local police radio and get told to change the channel. Sort of pointless come to think of it.

7.....Spanner

Probably from an IKEA kit.

8.....Chrome Hearts Ring

Fake. I'm not spending £500 on a ring any time soon.

9.....Permanent Marker

I've got loads of these lying around. Nothing special about this one I'm afraid.

10.....SkeptA Vinyl

Like a toad-in-the-hole, this record is packed full of bangers. Arguably one of the most important UK Grime albums of all time. I found out this red edition is worth a fair amount too, which is a nice surprise.

11.....Battery

BIG one too. Not sure what it's used for, not sure why I've got it either.

12.....Airwaves Chewing Gum

Top tier chewing gum. Most people can't handle the flavour. And to be honest, they just need to get a grip.

13.....Scalextric Jaguar

Not sure where any of the track is, but I think it's a cool little thing to have on a desk.

14.....Zippo Lighter

My mates gave this to me on one of my birthdays. Very cool, until you realise how much they need refuelling.

15.....Londis Lighter

Londis brand lighter which I'm convinced might be magic, because it never seems to run out. You never know when you might need a lighter too.

16.....Yu-Gi-Oh! Card

Yu-Gi-Oh! is a card game from my youth, most notably Year 3 of Junior School. Nobody really knew how to play properly, which is probably why this card was so good. It's also in Japanese, a language not understood by me, which most likely aided in this card's strength, since nobody could read it.

17.....Bulldog Clip

A slightly smaller than average bulldog clip, useful for clipping things. Who knows what it will clip next.

18.....Baseball

Unlike in the movies, this baseball has no symbolic meaning. I found it in a bush once and brought it home.

19.....Poker Chip

Found on the floor in Las Vegas. Unfortunately I couldn't cash it in because it's not a legal chip they use, just some random one. I guess you could call it a souvenir, of sorts.

20.....Apex Twin CD

This album, along with others, was an album we had in a red crate in our car in the 2000s. The music in that car defined my childhood interests, and ultimately impacted on my opinions and tastes today. I recently found a whole set of CDs in our cellar, which is why this is on my desk right now. Despite not having a CD player right now, This album means a lot to me.

21.....Salomon Shoe

Very comfy. This model was voted the 'best sneaker of the year' by GQ. Who cares

22.....Utterly Butterly Plane

Something I found on the floor when I was young. I still can't decide whether it looks good or just adds to the mess. Probably the latter.

23.....Estrella Bottle Lid

Found in my pocket once. Essentially recycling, rather than anything nice.

24.....Electrical Tape

I think I have used this once. One day, its true potential will be revealed.

25.....Zimbabwe 100 Trillion Dollar Note

Never been, but I thought it was a funny thing to have. "I am a trillionaire, look! " Hilarious.
